Anitha Kaleshbabu, a civil engineer by profession, graduated from TKM Engineering College - Kollam, came to Delhi in the year 1989. Her association with DMA started in 1992 from DMA Kalkaji area. She has successfully managed and fulfilled various roles and responsibilities as Women's wing Convener, Secretary, Chairperson of DMA Kalkaji Area.

Under her dynamic leadership, DMA Kalkaji Area partnered with YWCA for their Urban Development Program that focused on woman and child development from weaker sections of the society. She also took an active role in developing the area's youth wing, motivating the youth to participate in DMA activities.

In 2007 Anitha was elected as Vice President of DMA for the period 2007-2009. Anitha's most memorable period with DMA has been when she was assigned the responsibility of construction of the DMA Cultural Centre by the team where she worked together with likeminded people who put great efforts and expertise that led to the successful completion of the building and that was inaugurated on 14th of April 2008.

Over the last three decades Anitha has been closely associated with DMA and continues to contribute since her motto has always been to give back to the society by sharing and upholding values and culture to encourage better social and humanitarian life for all.
